1500-1545 Hrs: Tuesday, 14th December 2021: Virtual Session

The pandemic indeed was a wake-up call that the unexpected and the unlikely are more tangible and plausible than anyone previously anticipated. Just like most of the world, Singapore has indeed suffered from pandemic-related headwinds since it started. While these headwinds may persist through 2021 globally, Singapore is placed in a great position to recover with the outlook for 2021 appearing positive. This is largely due to the very disciplined approach Singapore has taken in managing the pandemic and keeping the spread of the coronavirus to very manageable levels. This has resulted in Singapore being ranked as one of the top countries in the world to live and do business in amid the Covid-19 pandemic.

Singapore has for decades attracted multinational groups for its pro-business regulatory environment, world-class infrastructure, Rapidly rising reputation as a Smart Nation, educated workforce and political stability. It not only attracts foreign investors, it also has a high percentage of foreign workers. The small island nation is in short one of the true centers of our global economy.
